Lives of Women

- 2739796 THE GRANDES DAMES. By Stephen Birmingham. Takes us into the drawing rooms of these powerful women, providing keen insights into aspects of American Society that are no longer fully visible. These women had looks, manners, and style, but more than that they had presence—there was a sense that when one of them entered a room, something momentous would occur. Here, Birmingham offers eight profiles of these members of American royalty.

- 2736342 WOMEN OF MEANINGS: Fascinating Biographies of Royals, Heiresses, Eccentrics and Other Poor Little Rich Girls. By Marlene Wagman-Geller. A collection of vignettes of the women who were slated from birth—or marriage—to great privilege, only to endure lives which were the stuff that tragic Russian heroines are made of. Some of these heiresses include Almira Herbert, Lillian Bettencourt, Peggy Bing, Nina Rothschild and Patty Hearst.

- 3740730 MUSES: Women Who Inspire. By Farid Abdelouahab. Revealing the passionate relationship between the artist and his muse, the author recounts the stories of thirty-two women who captured their temperament, beauty, talent, and pure magnetism, enthralled society’s artistic geniuses and inspired the creation of some of the most memorable works of the past century. We meet. . .

- 3736833 UNBREAKABLE: The Woman Who Defied the Nazis in the World’s Most Dangerous Horse Race. By Richard Askwith. Filled with eccentric artocrats, socialite spies, darenvel jockeys, and a race so brutal that some considered it a sign of madness to take part in it, this is a story of endurance and deferment in a world of prejudice and fear. Askwith brings to life a unique hero, and an unforgettable love affair between a woman and a horse. Photos. 426 pages. Pegasus. Paperbound. Pub. at $27.95

- 2851983 PRETTY-SHIELD: Medicine Woman of the Crow. By Frank B. Linderman. Pretty-shield, the legendary medicine woman of the Crow, tells the story of her life and what it was like on the Plains when the buffalo were still plentiful, and the many changes she experienced as her formerly mobile people were forced to come to terms with the reservation life. Originally published in 1932. 148 pages. Bison. Paperback. Pub. at $12.95

- 3727625 LOULOU & YVES: The Untold Story of Loulou de la Falaise and the House of Yves Saint Laurent. By Christopher Petkanas. Gallery. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.99

- 3725893 FINDING MAGIC: A Spiritual Memoir. By Sally Quinn. A journalist, television commentator, and longtime Washington insider, Quinn has discovered late in life that her life could best be understood as a spiritual quest. Throughout this radiant and intimate memoir, Quinn brings to light how each of us can find magic all along the way. 16 pages of photos, some color. 416 pages. Harper. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.95

- 2815494 THE HONEST BODY PROJECT: Real Stories and Untouched Portraits of Women and Motherhood. By Natalie McCann. Founded by photographer Natalie McCann, this project is opening the eyes of women around the story of being “real” and unafraid to expose both outside and inside of themselves. It is a collection of black and white portraits and stories, raw and untouched, from hundreds of women who have bared their hearts and souls to be a part of this project.

- 2846834 ANIMAL, VEGETABLE, MIRACLE, TENTH ANNIVERSARY EDITION: A Year of Food Life. By Barbara Kingsolver et al. When Kingsolver and her family moved from suburban Arizona to rural Appalachia, they took on a new challenge: to spend a year off the grid. This anniversary edition of their story features a new epilogue that celebrates the ongoing project.

3744257 WE WERE RICH AND WE DIDN’T KNOW IT: A Memoir of My Irish Boyhood. By Tom Phelan. In a series of small scenes and vignettes that read like short stories, Phelan offers a heartfelt and memorable account of growing up in Ireland in the 1920s. His deeply original, moving, and humorous account of a life lived in poverty, tears, and laughter, speaks to the strength of the human spirit in the face of life’s adversities and gives us a glimpse of a simpler time. 210 pages. Gallery. Pub. at $24.00 $13.95

3750760 THE MIGHTY FRANKS: A Memoir. By Michael Frank. The author’s family was one of the first in America to go into business with violence and prostitution, and in that story they intervened in a world, a singularly polarizing figure, Frank’s aunt Hanie, and the man that he would become, will speak to any reader who has ever struggled to find an independent voice amid the turbulence of the family life. 304 pages. Simon & Schuster. Pub. at $26.00 $5.95

3769044 EXPOSURE: Poisoned Water, Corporate Greed, and One Lawyer’s Twenty-Year Battle Against DuPont. By Robert Bilott with T. Shroder. The unforgettable legal drama about environmental pollution, and one lawyer’s quest to expose the truth about this previously unknown– and still unregulated–chemical that presents one of the world’s most secretive society of magicians. Magic is Dead: My Journey into the World’s Most Secretive Society of Magicians. By Ian Frisch. Rich with the history of magic and full of details about the business today, Frisch’s story takes us from the dark alleys of Blackpool, England, to the glitz of Las Vegas and the back lots of Hollywood. Opulent and with a cast of vibrant characters, this is a portrait of the past, present, and future of magic, and the story of a young man’s quest for something for himself. 319 pages. M. Titus. Pub. at $12.95

2836198 THIRTY YEARS A DETECTIVE. By Allan Pinkerton. The fascinating recollections of Allan Pinkerton, of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, first printed and reprinted in 1878, this book is filled with inaccuracies and exaggerations, this remains one of the most valuable of Pinkerton’s works, as much for its depiction of the criminal culture of the author’s time as for its biographical content. 290 pages.
