574675 TRUMP: A Graphic Biography. By Ted rall. Donald Trump inherited a fortune, but he wanted more. Never missing an opportunity to expand his business and name, he became a national brand. He built an empire, but that wasn’t enough. He wanted to be President, and he was willing to do and say whatever it took. He built the image of the malevolent excess, the hostile takeover of the Republican party. Everyone was shocked—except those who knew him. 192 pages. Scribner. Pub. at $16.95 $12.95

576474 JESSE LIVERMORE, BOY PLUNGER: The Man Who Sold America Short in 1929. By Tom Rubythom. In the summer of 1929, most people believed that the stock market would continue to rise forever. A man disagreed and started a process that would see him sell $450 million worth of shares short. Two weeks later, the market began fluctuating for no apparent reason. From the 24th to the 29th of October, Wall Street fell. Jesse Livermore made nearly $100 million and overnight became one of the richest men in the world. Photos. 382 pages. Myrtle. Pub. at $29.95 $21.95

582271 PRINCE OF DARKNESS: The Untold Story of Jeremiah G. Hamilton, Wall Street’s First Black Millionaire. By Shane White. Reveals the larger-than-life story of Jeremiah G. Hamilton, a black man who defied every convention of his time. A wheeler and dealer in the ill-y-white business world of Wall Street, he married a white woman, speculated in the shares of railroad companies that did not allow him to purchase their bonds, and generally set the white man’s teeth on edge when he wasn’t just plain outsmarting them. 360 pages. St. Martin’s. Pub. at $27.99 $8.95

5924599 FOR THE LOVE OF MONEY: A Memoir. By Sam Polk. When Polk was offered an annual bonus of $3.6 million and grew angry because it was not enough, he knew he had lost himself in his obsessive pursuit of money. Making money was an attempt to fill the void left by his narcissistic unavailable father. Raw and vivid, it expands Polk’s extraordinary life in a way that challenges his disillusionment, and the radical new way he has come to define success. 272 pages. Scribner. Pub. at $25.00 $5.95

586673 WHEN THE NEW DEAL CAME TO TOWN. By George melillo. In this personal and social history of the New Deal, the Wall Street Journal editor shares a homespun vignette of 1933 small-town Indiana as seen by a 9-year-old boy. He was a self-made millionaire with little education. He immersed himself in whatever venture he chose and usually came out on top. Carrozzas in-depth biography looks at the extraordinary life of a man who networked and convinced 30 critical years of American politics and international relations during WWII and the Cold War.
