The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. By Washington Irving. This tale of a timid schoolmaster who finds himself in the midst of a supernatural tale, including the enduring classic Rip Van Winkle. 286 pages. Arcturus. Sold out.

Bleak House. By Charles Dickens. Published in 1853, and inspired by an actual court case that dragged on for more than 50 years, Dickens drew upon his own experiences as a law clerk and plaintiff to enliven his novel, which remains utterly contemporary in its portrayal of a system invested in making money for itself at the expense of its plaintiffs. 800 pages. Arcturus. Paperback. $4.95.

Christmas Carol. By Charles Dickens. The story of the misery-penny-pinning Ebenezer Scrooge who views Christmas as “humbug.” Only through a series of eerie visits from the spirits of Christmas past, present, and future, does he begin to see the error of his ways. This compact collector’s edition is bound with gilt-edged pages and a ribbon bookmark. 143 pages. Macmillan. Paperback. $7.95.

Hard Times. By Charles Dickens. The backdrop to this campaigning novel is the grim industrial center of Coketown, with its belching chimney’s, purple-dyed river, and honking omnibus mill hands. Dickens’ shortest novel, yet one of his most politically controversial and hard-hitting. 253 pages. Arcturus. Paperback. $4.95.
