BLUFF
By Michael Kardos. Twenty-seven year old magician Natalie Webb is already a has-been. But then Natalie finds herself facing a dangerous proposition—one that could radically alter her meager fortune: to help pull off a $1.5 million magic trick that, if done successfully, no one will ever suspect happened. 280 pages. Mysterious Press. Paperback. Pub. at $16.00.

PHOENIX BURNING
By Isabella Maldonado. Homicide Detective Veranda Cruz will stop at nothing to take down the Villabos cartel. But when a wave of violence in downtown Phoenix escalates, she fears that the secrets of her past will take her down instead. 326 pages. Midnight Ink. Paperback. Pub. at $15.99.

DEADOUT
By Jon McGoran. A detective and his organic farmer girlfriend are distracted from their Martha’s Vineyard vacation by a mysterious plague that’s killing the island’s honeybees. When the Stoma Corporation offers to supply local farmers with genetically modified bees, things spin out of control and they must stop Soma’s venomous plot before it spreads to the mainland—and the world.

MURDERABILIA
By Carl Vonderau. William McNary was eight years old when his father went to prison for murdering thirteen women, dismembering them, and then photographing them. Now thirty one years later a woman is murdered in the same gruesome way. Only one person can understand the copycat killer, the monster William has not seen since he was a child.

Poisoned Pen
By Stuart MacBride. When Detective Inspector Bell turns up dead in a crashed car, it’s a shock to everyone—because Bell died two years ago. Or at least they thought he did. But now, the deeper Inspector Logan McAteer digs, the more bones he uncover. And there are people out who’ll kill to keep those skeletons buried. 468 pages. HarperCollins. Paperback. Pub. at $11.95

Harper
By Ian Sansom. Stranded in the market town of Appleby, after a tragic rail crash, Morley, his daughter, and his assistant, find themselves drawn into a world of country fairs, gossip lore and wrestling. When a woman’s body is discovered at an archaeological dig, Morley wonders if it could be murder. Join them as they journey into the heart of 1930s England.

Zaffre
By Michael Gibert. Convicted of murder, Victoria Larimarte, awaits her appointment with the gallows. One final opportunity remains: the defendant calls on solicitor Nap Rumbold to replace the defense council, and grants an eight-day reprieve. Without any time to spare, Rumbold begins to trace the roots of the brutal eight-day reprieve. Without any time to spare, he calls on solicitor Nap Rumbold to replace the defense council, and grants an eight-day reprieve. Without any time to spare, he calls on solicitor Nap Rumbold to replace the defense council, and grants an eight-day reprieve.

Poisoned Pen
By A.J. MacKenzie. Across the still, dark English Channel come the smugglers. But tonight they carry an unusual cargo—a coffin. Several miles inland, a respected banker holds a party. Within days, one of the guests is found shot dead. What links this apparently senseless killing to the smugglers lurking in the mist along the Kent Coast? And who was in the mysterious coffin?

HarperCollins
By Maggie Robinson. Scotland Yard Detective Inspector Devensand Hunter finds himself in the middle of a series of upper class deaths in London. Young people are being extinguished in their favorite night spots. When Lady Adelaide Compton offers her help, could working on the case together lead to much more than merely solving crimes? 268 pages. Poisoned Pen. Paperback. Pub. at $11.95

Pegasus
By Helen Fields. After a second young woman is found butchered in Edinburgh, D.C.I. Ava Turner and D.J. Luc Callanach realize the “babydoll” killer is playing a horrifying game. And it’s only a matter of time before he strikes again. 420 pages. Avon. Paperback. Pub. at $12.99

Pegasus
By Lesley Thomson. Thirty years ago a woman went walking by the river with her young son. She never came home. For three decades her case file has lain, unsolved, in the corner of an attic. Until Stella Darnell, daughter of Detective Chief Superintendent Darrell, starts to clear out her father’s house after his death and takes on a case he couldn’t solve. 472 pages. Head of Zeus. Paperback. Pub. at $14.95

Pegasus
By Stephen Berry. Stephen Berry is about to jump off a bridge when a suicide prevention counselor stops him. A week later, Stephen is dead. D.I. Luc Callanach and D.C.I. Ava Turner are drafted in to investigate whether he jumped or was pushed. But more carefully curated suicides begin to turn up, and little do Callanach and Turner know, just how close their perpetrator is.

Poisoner Pen
By Katerina Diamond. When the butchered body of a professor is found in a private office of Exeter University, DS Imogen Grey and DS Adrian Miles look to his students for answers—but their initial investigation turns up no leads. As the body count rises, they have to look into the past to uncover the person responsible.

Sourcebooks
By Francis Duncan. Soon after they arrive in Brighton, it becomes clear to Mordecai Tremaine and Chief Inspector Jonathan Boyle that the city harbors more than its fair share of passions and motives. But one question lingers. Why did Dr. Hardene, the local general practitioner of impeccable reputation, bring a revolver with him on a routine visit to a patient?

SWIMMING HOME  By Deborah Levy. As he arrives with his family at the villa in the hills above Nice, Joe sees a body in the swimming pool. But the girl is very much alive. She is Kitty Finch, a self-proclaimed botanist, walking naked out of the water into the heart of their holiday. Why is she there and what does she want? 157 pages. Bloomsbury. Paperbound. Pub. at $14.00

FLY BY NIGHT  By Andrea Thalasinos. On the same day marine biologist Amelia Drakos discovers that her beloved Seahorse Laboratory is being foreclosed, she learns her deceased father had lived a secret life and she has an older brother. Amelia wonders if she and her newfound brother can overcome the sins of their father and find peace. 444 pages. Forge. Pub. at $25.99

LIGHTHOUSE BEACH  By Shelley Noble. When Jess and Lillo discover Jess’s fiancé philandering in the parking lot, Jess, Lillo, Ailie and Diana all pile into Lillo’s old van and head up the coast to Lighthouse Beach. But what begins as a flight from a wedding soon becomes a journey of self-discovery for them all. None of them will be able to resist the healing power of Lighthouse Beach. 303 pages. Morrow. Paperbound. Pub. at $15.99

GETTING EVEN  By Sarah Rayner. How would you feel if your best friend at work betrayed you? Won a coveted promotion by having an affair, then teamed you up with a mere junior, leaving you feeling completely demoted? For Lvy, there’s no question—revenge. But is Lvy really the innocent party, or is she hiding secrets of her own? 312 pages. St. Martin’s. Pub. at $26.99

NO ORDINARY LIFE  By Suzanne Redfearn. Faye never expected her husband to abandon her and their three children, or that she’d have to struggle every day to make ends meet. But when her four year old daughter is discovered and offered a role on a television series, realizes that fame and fortune don’t come without a price as she fights to protect her children’s fragile lives. 387 pages. Grand Central. Paperbound. Pub. at $14.99

THE AUSTEN ESCAPE  By Katherine Reay. When Mary’s childhood friend, Isabel, offers her a two week stay in a gorgeous manor house in England, she reluctantly agrees in the hopes that it will shake up her quiet life. But she gets more than she bargained for when Isabel loses her memory and fully believes she lives in Jane Austen’s Bath. 305 pages. Thomas Nelson. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.99

THE PARTY  By Elizabeth Day. Over the course of a single evening, two married couples, Ben and Serena, and Ben’s devoted friend Martin and his wife Lucy, will come to question everything they thought they knew about each other, culminating in an explosive act of violence. 295 pages. Little, Brown. Pub. at $26.00

BEHOLD THE DREAMERS  By Imbolo Mbue. New York City, 2007. Jenda Jonga has just arrived from Cameroon with grand ambitions of success for him and his family. He imagines many possible worlds: in one, time is circular so people are fated to repeat triumphs and failures over and over; in another place visited by lovers where everything from the cherry in your soda, to the music; now he must decide if his attacker is a mere junior, leaving him homesick and resentful until he embarks on a new love affair—with New York City and three new friends. 287 pages. Picador. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.00

LILLIAN BOXFISH TAKES A WALK  By Kathleen Rooney. Lillian, eighty-five years old and as sharp and savvy as ever, is on her way to a party. Her son warns her about a subway vigilante, but Lillian doesn’t scare easily. On her walk around the city she meets bartenders, security guards, criminals, and children. She takes her time as the night is still young. 287 pages. Fcador. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.00

WHERE THE WILD CHERRIES GROW  By Laura Madeleine. It’s 1919, and the end of the war has not brought peace for Erremike. Lost in grief, she boards a train and runs away to a tiny seaside village in the South of France. Fifty years later, Bill, a young solicitor, finds Erremike’s diary and begins to trace an anguished story of betrayal and love that will send him on a journey to discover the truth of what happened to Erremike. 335 pages. St. Martin’s. Pub. at $26.99

YOU, ME, AND THE SEA  By Meg Donohue. Merrow Shave believes she was born of the sea: strong, joyous, and wild. Her beloved home is Horseshoe Clift, a small farm on the coast of Northern California, where she spends her days exploring fog-cloaked beaches and swimming in a secluded cove. Here she meets Amir. But when tragedy strikes, she is forced to question whether Amir is really the person she believes him to be. 340 pages. Morrow. Paperbound. Pub. at $15.99

THROUGH RUSHING WATER  By Catherine Richmond. The Board of Foreign Missions sends Sophie to the Ponca Indian Agency in the bleak Dakota Territory. Soon she is infected with a passion for the people she’s sent to serve. It is also a passion shared by the Agency carpenter, Will Dunn. As the Poncas are being uprooted from their land, Sophia and Will fight for their friends and their love. 357 pages. Thomas Nelson. Paperbound. Pub. at $15.99

NO ONE COULD HAVE GUESSED THE WEATHER  By Anne-Marie Casey. After her husband loses his job, Lucy has to leave behind her posh life in London and settle into a tiny East Village apartment.
