192374 THE NINETIES. By Chuck Klosterman. In this work, Klosterman makes clear how the Nineties represented the time when the music, the sports, the TV, the politics, the changing roles and class and sexuality, the vernacular of Oprah and Alan Greenspan. 370 pages. Penguin. Pub. at $28.00 $21.95

497301 WHALING CAPTAINS OF COLOR: America’s First Meritocracy. By Skip Taunton. A sweeping, global investigation into the previously untold story of whaling’s leaders of color in an era when the only other option was slavery. One of the first American industries to exhibit diversity, whaling allowed a man to become a captain and rise from wretched almshouse in firmary–a place where a patient was more likely to die than be cured–to a revered public hospital and premier trauma center. 392 pages. Norton. Pub. at $28.00 $19.95

485228 THE SHATTERING: America in the 1960s. By Kevin Boyle. Covering the late 1950s through the early 1970s, this chronicle of the American century’s key conflicts over race, sex, and war. Boyle captures the inspiring and brutal events of this passionate time with a remarkable eye for the humanity that made this history and illuminates currents that still run through our politics today. 16 pages of photos. 456 pages. Norton. Pub. at $32.00 $24.95

48130X WASPS. The Splendors and Miseries of an American Aristocracy. By Michael Knox Beran. In a fascinating and beautifully written series of photos, Beran brings the stories of Henry Adams, Henry Stimson, and more to life. These characters were driven by a vision of human completeness, one that distinguishes them from the self-complacency of more recent power establishments narrowly founded on money and technical know-how. Illus. 530 pages. Pegasus. Pub. at $29.95 $19.95

1943804 WASPS: The Splendors and Miseries of an American Aristocracy. By Michael Knox Beran. In a fascinating and beautifully written series of photos, Beran brings the stories of Henry Adams, Henry Stimson, and more to life. These characters were driven by a vision of human completeness, one that distinguishes them from the self-complacency of more recent power establishments narrowly founded on money and technical know-how. 187112 AMERICAN ILLUMINATIONS: Urban Lighting, 1800-1920. By David E. Nye. Examines the nineteenth century Americans experienced with gas and electric light to create illuminated cityscapes far more complex than those of Europe, and how these illuminations became symbolic of modernity in the conquest of space. Photos. 280 pages. MIT Press. Pub. at $40.00 $19.95

484071 CRUISING FOR CONSPIRATORS: How a New Orleans DA Prosecuted the Kennedy Assassination as a Sex Crime. By Alecia F. Long. New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison’s decision to arrest Clay Shaw on March 1, 1967, set off a chain of events. At once a dramatic courtroom narrative and a deeper meditation on the enduring power of mythologized history, this book shows how the same dynamics that promoted Garrison’s unjust prosecution continue to inform conspiratorial thinking to this day. Photos. 247 pages. UNC Press. Pub. at $28.00 $19.95

484015 THE FAILED PROMISE: Reconstruction, Frederick Douglass, and the Impeachment of Andrew Johnson. By Robert L. Stephen. Portrays the conflicts that brought Frederick Douglass and the wider black press to the forefront of the political scene and call for a guilty verdict in his impeachment trial. In countering the lies and careers of Douglass and Johnson, Levine offers a distinctive vision of the lost promise and dire failure of Reconstruction, which had already reverberated for 312 pages.
