American Regional & Local Histories

7891903 LIGHTHOUSES OF HAMPTON ROADS: A History. By Benjamin H. Trask. Eleven light stations have dotted the southeastern coast of Virginia since the days of Captain John Smith. The keepers themselves were mostly white men from Virginia or North Carolina, however caretakers also included immigrants, women and formerly enslaved people. Their lives were intertwined with the events that shaped the nation. Well illus. 172 pages. History Press. Paperbound. Pub. at $23.99

7891873 DEATH IN EARLY NEW ENGLAND: Rites, Rituals and Remembrance. By Robert A. Geake. Death in early New England came to be regarded as a matter of course during those harsh first decades of settlement. Epidemics, hunger, accidents and infant mortality contributed to a heavy toll. Traditions brought over with European customs and others that were strictly American were eventually interwoven, and these ceremonies became part of these rites and rituals of mourning. Illus. 172 pages. History Press. Paperbound. Pub. at $23.99

785320X THE CEMETERIES OF NEW ORLEANS: A Cultural History. By Peter B. Deced. Reveals the origins and evolution of the Crescent City’s world-famous necropolises, investigating both their distinctive architecture and their cultural impact. Drawing on a fascinating body of research, go from muddy fields of crude burial markers to extravagantly designed cities of the dead, illuminating an essential and vulnerable piece of New Orleans’s identity. 262 pages. LaSAP Paperback. Pub. at $23.99

7721933 AMERICAN SIRENS: The Incredible Story of the Black Men Who Became America’s First Paramedics. By Kevin Hazzard. The extraordinary story of an unjustly forgotten group of Black men in Pittsburgh who became the first paramedics in America, saving lives and changing the course of emergency medicine around the world. 316 pages.

784932X IT HAPPENED IN MIAMI, THE MAGIC CITY: An Oral History. By Myrka Deced. Florida’s booming soul and nearly 70 fabulous voices—including more than 15 mini memoirs—telling stories, offering perceptions on subjects going back as far as memory allows and up to the exciting headlines today. Sun fun, yes, but the story is much more than that. Well illus. some in color. 236 pages. Taylor. Pub. at $29.95

7865694 UNEXPLAINED SOUTH. By Alan Brown. In the South, mystery remains sprinkled with added richness. And in this collection of comfort food for the curious mind, Brown guides readers into the most delightful medley of mysteries that have haunted the Southern heartland. The devil’s hoofprints in North Carolina. Voodoo in New Orleans. And so much more. Well illus. 206 pages. History Press. Paperbound. Pub. at $23.99
