780892X WHEN WOMEN RULED THE WORLD: Making the Renaissance in Europe. By Maureen Limoges. The sixteenth century in Europe was a time of chronic destabilization in which institutions of traditional authority were challenged and undermined. In doing so, women, whose reputation had long been discredited, began to assert themselves. Quilligan shows how these regents carefully engendered a culture of mutual respect, focusing on the gift-giving by which they aimed to elevate their status and alliance, as described in 301 pages.
