6939708 THE BRINK: President Reagan and the Nuclear War Scare of 1983. By Donald R. Hickey. July 18, 1982. The United States formally declared war for the first time in a controversial decision that provoked a swell of both support and opposition. Here, in 140 letters, speeches, interviews, and writings, is the definitive account of the United States’ decision to drop the nuclear bomb. In these pages, the United States can be seen at its most daring, most decisive, and most courageous. The result is a tour de force of reporting that captures the essence of the moment, of the issues, and of the arguments that led to the decision. The result is a book that is both a history of a moment in time and a history of a moment in American history.
