The non-British contingent in Fighter Command at the time fought against Japan with the B-47 and F-22 fighter. With more than 1,500 aircraft in the Far East Theater, the US Army's "big stick" was the F-16 and the B-52H. Formed to carry out the precision low-level attack on the Me-321, the F-16 and F-111 were the first all-jet fighters to see action in the Pacific.
