366600X THE GENESIS OF SCIENCE: How the Christian Middle Ages Launched the Scientific Revolution. By James Hannam. If you were taught in school that scientific thinking began in ancient Greece, you're in for a comedic surprise. The real story is a lot more interesting. All the key figures are in this deep-dive history, and much more. 454 pages. Regnery. Pub. at $29.95 $4.95

6762468 ATOM. By Piers Bizony. The incredible story of the atom's discovery was as bizarre and capricious as the atom itself. This account is a collection of essays by a handful of evolutionary young scientists who were at the forefront of this great leap into the world of quantum science, revealing the discoveries that upset everything we thought we knew about reality. 16 pages of photos. 26 pages. Icon. Paperbound. Pub. at $14.95 $4.95

6732194 EINSTEIN’S DICE and SCHRODINGER’S CAT. By Paul Halpern. Tells the little-known story of how Albert Einstein and Erwin Schrodinger searched, first as collaborators and then as competitors, for a theory that transcended the seemingly impenetrable weidness of quantum mechanics. The story of their quest, which ultimately failed, provides new insights into the history of physics and the scientists who led the progress. 271 pages. Basic. Paperbound. Pub. at $16.99 $5.95

2689480 AGAINST THEIR WILL: The Secret History of Medical Experimentation on Children in Cold War America. By Allen M. Hornblum et al. During the peak of the Cold War, thousands of children in hospitals, orphanages, and mental asylums became the subjects of experimental studies. Based on years of research this is the first comprehensive history of how the medical establishment used institutionalized children as guinea pigs. Photos. 266 pages. Palgrave. Pub. at $27.00 $5.95

6825281 FAILURE: Why Science Is So Successful. By Stuart Firestein. An insider’s view of how science is actually carried out. This volume will delight anyone with an interest in science, from aspiring scientists to curious general readers. Firestein illuminates the greatest and most productive adventure of human history, with all the missteps along the way. 286 pages. Oxford. Pub. at $21.95 $6.95

686922X EVERYTHING YOU KNOW ABOUT SCIENCE IS WRONG. By Matt Brown. From basic pseudoscience to phenomena of physics, scandals of space and scientific misquotes, Brown will shatter the illusions you have held since childhood and demystify this most baffling of subjects. Illus. 176 pages. Batsford. Paperbound. Pub. at $12.95 $3.95

6869451 TIME TRAVEL: A History. By James Gleick. A mind-bending exploration of time travel—from its origins in literature and science to its influence on our understanding of time itself. Gleick explores physics, technology, philosophy, and art as each relates to time travel and tells the story of the concept’s cultural evolution. 332 pages. Vintage. Paperbound. Pub. at $17.00 $12.95

6868053 REVOLUTIONARY SCIENCE: Transformation and Torture in the Age of the Guillotine. By Steven Johnson. At the time of this French Revolution was the world capital of science whose scholars laid the foundations of today’s physics, chemistry, and biology. An acclaimed science writer takes an expansive look at Paris, its history, and its science, to give the reader dazzling new insight into the City of Light. Illus. 480 pages. Pegasus. Pub. at $17.25 $9.95

6826830 THE POETICS OF SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION IN SEVENTEENTH-CENTURY ENGLAND. By Claire Preston. This study examines the way that scientists in the 16th and 17th centuries, who had not studied “science” formally, used their tool of their literary education to formulate ideas about science and, at the same time, how the remarkable 17th century scientific developments inspired non scientific writers to make new fictions of discovery. Illus. 192 pages. Oxford. Pub. at $13.95 $6.95

682911X THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD—SO FAR. By Lawrence M. Krauss. A grand poetic vision of the universe that at its core, is about the best of what it means to be human.
