280100X THE INTERNET OF US: Knowing More and Understanding Less in the Age of Big Data. By Michael Patrick Lynch. The explosion of technological innovation which has revolutionized the way we learn and know, has also produced a curious paradox: even as we seem to understand less. Lynch builds on previous works by Nicholas Carr, James Gleick and Larson Lienar to give us a necessary guide on how to navigate the philosophical quandary that surrounds us. 237 pages. Liveright. Pub. at $25.95

2882221 CONTROVERSIAL BODIES: Thoughts on the Public Display of Plastinated Corpses. Ed. by John D. Lantos. A collection of lively, thought-provoking essays and sometimes personal essays that reflect on the public displays of plastinated human bodies, from ethical, legal, cultural, religious, pedagogical, and aesthetic perspectives. These essays address the key issues for the future of this controversial issue, and set the stage for the development of a meaningful ethic.

Lives & Works of Philosophers

2989237 MEDITATIONS. By Marcus Aurelius. During his time in power, Aurelius wrote a series of private notes where he recorded his thoughts on philosophy. He believed that philosophy articulated the need for inner peace and moral certainty in a world filled with chaos and suffering. These insights are just as helpful today as when he wrote them nearly two millennia ago. 160 pages. Arcturus. Paperbound. Pub. at $9.95

2881578 BASIC WRITINGS OF NIETZSCHE. By Ed. Walter Kaufmann. Gathers the complete texts of five of Nietzsche’s most important works, from his first book to his last. Also features seventy-five aphorisms, selections from Nietzsche’s correspondence, and variants from drafts for Ecce Homo. 862 pages. Modern Library. Paperbound. Pub. at $18.00

6910289 CRITIQUE OF PURE REASON. By Immanuel Kant. The German philosopher argues that human knowledge is limited by the capacity for perception. He attempts a logical designation of two varieties of knowledge: a posteriori, knowledge acquired through experience, and a priori, knowledge not derived through experience. Originally published in 1781, it is a cornerstone of Western philosophy. 480 pages. Dover. Paperbound. Pub. at $13.00

2919907 THE JOYOUS SCIENCE. By Friedrich Nietzsche. This deeply personal and affirmative work of Nietzsche’s straddles his middle and late periods and contains some of the most important ideas that he would ever express in writing. This playful combination of aphorisms, poetry and prose is a treasure for the mind.

2896826 JUNG, BUDDHISM, AND THE INCARNATION OF SOPHIA: Unpublished Writings from the Philosopher of the Soul. By Henr Corbin. In this collection of writings of one of the most significant French philosophers and orientalists of the 20th century, he examines the work of Carl Jung in relation to the deep spiritual traditions of Eastern religion, the esoteric teachings of Sophia, the transformational symbolism of alchemy, and Suf mysticism. 199 pages. Inner Traditions. Paperbound. Pub. at $24.99

2778277 MACHIAVELLI’S LEGACY: The Prince After Five Hundred Years. Ed. by Timothy Fuller. A spirited conversation about Machiavelli’s legacy. These essays cover topics such as Machiavelli’s influence on the arts, an argument that Machiavelli accomplished a profoundly democratic turn in political thought, and a liberal critique of his radical agenda for political life. 203 pages. UPaP. Pub. at $47.50

2973944 DYING FOR IDEAS: The Dangerous Lives of the Philosophers. By Costica Bradatan. Explores the limit situations in which philosophers find themselves when the only means of persuasion they can use is their own dying bodies and the public scrutiny of their deaths. Provides a vivid and exciting story of the philosopher’s encounter with death as seen from several different angles. 238 pages. Bloomsbury. Paperbound. Pub. at $19.95
