387835 THE LAST STONE. By James Patterson et al. Jeffrey Archer is preparing to tell his friend, a mysterious chain of events, Tom Dooley was born into poverty in 1848. By the time he was 19, he had already been to jail for stealing a horse. In 1862, he volunteered for the Union army and fought in the Civil War. After the war, he returned to Kentucky and opened a general store. It was not until 1881 that he gained notoriety as a murderer. On the night of January 13, 1881, Dooley and his friend John Green went to a party at Dooley’s father’s house. During the night, Dooley and Green got into an argument with two men who owed money to Dooley’s father. In a fit of rage, Dooley shot and killed one of the men. He was eventually found guilty of murder and sentenced to life in prison. He served his time and was released in 1890. After his release, Dooley began to work as a laborer and eventually became a successful businessman. He lived a quiet life until his death in 1917.
